

WOMEN AND LEADERSHIP, ROCHESTER STYLE

A Historical Overview of Women's Leadership from Abolition, Suffrage to Equality

Friday, January 25

3:00 to 4:00 PM

University of Rochester River Campus

Wilson Commons Building, Conference Room 121

From the influence of Haudenosaunee (Iroquois) women, to a radical Hicksite Quaker, to a stubborn teacher who demanded equal pay as a principal, to community activists who turned their passions into economic, social and political success, Rochester women have historically mobilized for equality. Come learn more about these path blazers and the qualities that defined their leadership and success.

Presented by Jane Plitt, University of Rochester Visiting Scholar

Seating is limited | RSVP by Tuesday, January 22 to sbac@ur.rochester.edu
